INTRODUCTION

1. At its forty-sixth session, the General Assembly adopted resolution 46/181 of 19 December 1991 entitled "International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism", and a Plan of Action "aimed at ushering in the twenty-first century, a world free from colonialism", in which, inter alia, it requested the Special Committee on the Situation with regard to the Implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples to "organize during the Decade seminars in the Caribbean and Pacific regions alternately, as well as at United Nations Headquarters, to review the progress achieved in the implementation of the plan of action, with the participation of the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories, their elected representatives, the administering Powers, Member States, regional organizations, specialized agencies, non-governmental organizations and experts".

2. In its resolution 46/70 of 11 December 1991 calling for coordinated assistance of the specialized agencies to the remaining Non-Self-Governing Territories, the General Assembly stated that "in addition to general problems facing developing countries, the remaining Non-Self-Governing Territories, many of which are small island Territories, also suffer handicaps arising from the interplay of such factors as their size, remoteness, geographical dispersion, vulnerability to natural disasters, the fragility of their ecosystems, constraints in transport and communications, great distances from market centres, a highly limited internal market, lack of natural resources, weak indigenous technological capacity, the acute problem of obtaining freshwater supplies, heavy dependence on imports and a small number of commodities, depletion of non-renewable resources, migration, particularly of personnel with high-level skills, shortage of administrative personnel and heavy financial burdens".

I. PLACE AND DATES OF THE SEMINAR

3. The Pacific regional Seminar will be held at Port Moresby, Papua New Guinea, from 8 to 10 June 1993.

II. PURPOSE OF THE SEMINAR

4. The Seminar would mainly address political, economic and social conditions in the small island Non-Self-Governing Territories of the Pacific region and assess the related situation in those Territories. The Seminar would also identify areas in which the international community could increase and enhance its participation in programmes of assistance and development and adopt a comprehensive and integrated approach to ensure the viable and sustainable development of the Territories concerned.

5. The topics to be considered by the Seminar will assist the Special Committee in focusing its attention on the specific concerns of the remaining Non-Self-Governing Territories. In this connection, the Seminar will give pre-eminence to a broad range of views of the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories. It will also secure the participation of the administering Powers, of special guests, particularly personalities who are actively involved in the political, economic and social development of the region, and of organizations and institutions which focus on such development; and, of selected non-governmental organizations with long and established experience in island Territories. Special emphasis will also be placed on the participation of specialized agencies of the United Nations system, with a view to formulating specific recommendations to enhance the social and economic development of those Territories.

6. The contributions of all participants will serve as a basis for the conclusions and recommendations of the Seminar, which will assist the Special Committee in its future consideration of the remaining Territories.
